

Investment Objective

The Fund provides exposure to global credit markets and aims to generate income with some potential for capital growth over the medium to long term.

Past performance is not indicative of future performance. Returns may be volatile and may vary from year to year.

¹ Total Return (after fees) is calculated using pre-distribution month end withdrawal unit prices, and assumes all income is reinvested in additional units. Total Return equals Growth return (after fees) plus Distribution return (after fees).

² Active Return of the Fund is the difference between the Total Return and the return of the Benchmark. Gross Returns (before fees) are calculated by adding back the fees and expenses deducted. Please refer to the PDS for more information on fees and expenses.

Portfolio and Market Returns

The Bentham Global Income Fund had a total return (after fees) of -1.56% in the month of December, underperforming the benchmark (50% Bloomberg AusBond Bank Bill Index, 50% Bloomberg AusBond Composite Index) after fees by 2.39%. On a before fees basis the fund returned -1.50% for the month, underperforming the benchmark by 2.33%.

December passed with little to celebrate as risk-off sentiment pervaded and credit spreads generally widened. Concerns surrounding global growth, trade wars, and the government shut-down outweighed what was mostly robust fundamental economic data. Jerome Powell managed to hike for the fourth and final time in 2018, but with language that markets interpreted as more cautious.

The top performing contributors to performance included Global Hybrids, Investment Grade Credit and Residential Mortgage Backed Securities (RMBS); whilst the bottom performing contributors included Global Syndicated Loans, Collateralised Loan Obligations (CLO) and Bank Capital Securities.

Our outlook for global credit markets in 2019 remains cautiously optimistic even as we continue to wind-down our short rates position towards neutral. Over the medium term, we expect that the strong macroeconomic environment in the US will continue to be supportive of credit markets and bearish for most bond markets.

¹⁰ Bentham intends to achieve the distribution rate for FY2019 with taxable income. If there is a shortfall of taxable income, the distribution may possibly include a capital return. The current distribution rate setting was based on the running yield of the Fund as at 30 June 2018 and assumes the Fund continues to achieve an equivalent yield for FY2019. Actual distributions, however, can differ from this setting because of future matters which are not known or able to be presently identified.
